

Prosecutor Well-being and You

A Monthly Newsletter

Welcome to the November 2021 edition of NDAA's newsletter, Prosecutor Well-being and You!

Follow Us On Medium For The Latest In Recess Blogs

Read the Full Blog

What Is My Daughter Giving Up For Me To Be A Prosecutor?

Every day, I think about my daughter being sexually abused. She just turned three in July and I can say with full confidence that she has not been sexually abused. But because of my job, every single day I think about the chance that she might one day be sexually abused. Before she was even born, I vetoed the request from her uncle that she be permitted a sleepover with him when she was old enough. I've seen too many of those cases.

When to Ask For Help...or Welcome to the Club

Two Handles

Visit Our Medium Blog

Visit Our Resource Page

Interested in learning more and/or contributing to NDAA's Well-being Task Force?
Contact Susan Broderick at sbroderick@ndaajustice.org.

Join Us for Our Prosecutor Well-being Webinar Series

Trauma Stewardship: A Book Club Review

December 14, 2021
2:00pm - 3:00pm ET
1 CLE Credit Hour

Learn More & Register

Webinar Schedule

Be on the lookout for the Well-being Task Force's 2022 prosecutor well-being webinar series coming soon!

The 2021 prosecutor well-being webinar series is free to all NDAA members!
